

Does your mother ignore your calls?

Perhaps she just has trouble hearing the signal

As your mother gets older it's not unusual that age takes its toll on the hearing. Maybe you've noticed that your mother seems harder to reach on the phone or that she doesn't always open the door when you come for a visit.

Now there's a simple solution. It's called the Visit alerting system and it will alert her when the doorbell or phone rings, even when she is out in the garden.

With the Visit alerting system she will never miss a call again.
